BASIS FOR REJECTIONS

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless --

- (a) the invention was known or used by others in this country, or patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country, before the invention thereof by the applicant for a patent.
- (b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.
- (c) the invention was described in a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention thereof by the applicant for patent, or on an international application by another who has fulfilled the requirements of paragraphs (1), (2), and (4) of section 371(c) of this title before the invention thereof by the applicant for patent.

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

- (a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

REJECTION OF CLAIMS ON FORMAL MATTERS

The following is a quotation of the first paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall contain a written description of the invention, and of the manner and process of making and using it, in such full, clear, concise, and exact terms as to enable any person skilled in the art to which it pertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to make and use the same and shall set forth the best mode contemplated by the inventor of carrying out his invention.

Claim 18 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, first paragraph, as containing subject matter which was not described in the specification in such a way as to reasonably convey to one skilled in the relevant art that the inventor(s), at the time the application was filed, had possession of the claimed invention. Failure to provide details of the feature where the rolling devices are freely movable sideways to adapt to the width of the sheet in conjunction with the use of ball screws for adjusting the position of the rolling devices along the guides renders the disclosure inadequate. These movements appear to be contrary to one another.

REJECTION OF CLAIMS OVER PRIOR ART

Claim 10 and 11 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Yoder (2,098,989). See Figures 36 and 36b where the rollers 49 are angularly adjustable relative to its cooperating rollers 48 and the force of the rollers can be adjusted by clamp 61, 63 and bolt 62. As to claim 11, see Figure 36a where rollers 48 can also be adjusted along frame 57 to adjust the distance between the rolling devices 48 and 49 to the specific width of the sheet material.

Claim 13, 14, 16, 17 and 19 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Yoder (2,098,989) in view of Izumi (JP 59-27723). The use of ball screws is well known in the art as adjusting implements that provide precise adjustment and prevent backlash. Accordingly, it would have been obvious to the skilled artisan at the time of the invention to have modified Yoder's manually adjustable rollers 48 and 49 by using a ball screw assembly using the concepts taught by Izumi where a ball screw 10 can be used in the rolling art as an adjustment implement for the above noted motivation.

Claims 10-12 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Utashiro (3,355,922). See Figure 1 where the roller devices 11, 16 and 10, 15 can be angularly adjusted relative to one another and the rolling force can be adjusted by adjustment screws in the columns 2 and 3 (see the sentence bridging columns 2 and 3). As to claim 11, the rollers can be adjusted along the "frame" 4 and 5 by replacement of the cylinders 7, 8, 12 or 22. Since the rollers 15 and 16 pivot freely, their movement is in a sideways direction. Thus, the limitation of claim 12 is met by Utashiro's roll forming machine.

INDICATION OF ALLOWABLE SUBJECT MATTER

Claim 15 is objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

WITHDRAWAL OF NON=ELECTED CLAIMS

Claims 1-9 and 20 stand withdrawn from further consideration pursuant to 37 CFR 1.142(b) as being drawn to a nonelected invention, there being no allowable generic or linking claim. Election was made without traverse in the reply filed on July 12, 2007.

PRIOR ART CITED BY EXAMINER

The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure.

RESPONSE BY APPLICANT(S)

Applicant(s) response to be fully responsive and to provide for a clear record must specifically point out how the language of the claims patentably distinguishes them from the references, both those references applied in the objections and rejections and those references cited in view of the state of the art in accordance with 37 CFR 1.111 (a), (b) and (c).
